STORY OF MOUNTAIN RAILROAD LIFE.

FRANK H. SPEARMAN.

CHAPTER X.

The one shot fired in the courthouse had already made a commotion. Spike saining the foot of the stairs hid himself just as clerks, coming in at the front, ran upstairs to see what | was wrong. And when the coast below was clear Spike slipped out of the open door and walked away.

Seagrue, at his window, had been watching his men in Main Street. After what seemed an interminable

After what seemed an interminable time be heard steps on the hall stairs, and the next moment Lug, hurrying fits the room as Seagrue opened the door for him, threw the book of records on the table.

Seag ue opened it in haste and looked for what he wanted, but while the index sheets indicated the registry of the deeds he failed to find the pages where they should be. While he was searching Bill ran in. "Well," exclaimed Bill, "you got what you want. We came mighty near getting pinched."

Seagrue answered testily: "I don't see how I've got what I want. Ringelander's deeds are not in this book. Where are the pages that belong here?"

find Spike," directed Seagrue fully. "And bring him in Suppose he won't come?" parried

Bill.

"Kill him." returned Seagrue without hesitation. "Bring him anyway."

The men, loitering along Main Street and drinking, had worked themselves into an ugly mood even before Spike, walking through the crowd, was recognized by one and ac-casted. The man, who was quarrelome, caught the convict by the coat collar. Spike shook himself loose and was walking away when Bill hurried tore any sing out of your book?" he asked. "You carried the book on! didn't you? I know I didn't." Abuse from Bill followed. It was returned by Spike with usury. Across the street on a vacant lot the

Across the street on a vacant lot the owner of an adjoining house, while burning some rubbish, was cleaning his rifle. As he jerked the shells from the magazine one fell into the first Picking up those that he could find of the cartridges he returned to his house with the gun. Spike and Bill were in the midst of their heated argument a mament later when the report of a rifle startled them. Both men, as a bullet sung past, instinctively dodged. In doing so Bill unluckly struck a projecting awning hook with his head. The blow was charp and the end of the hook penetrated his temple. Bill sank to the pavement unconscious. pavement unconscious.

Some of the idle laborers who had been alarmed at the shot, seeing Bill go down, came forward. Bill, bleeding at the temple, lay while Spike, wondering what had happened, stood by. The Sheriff came up.

"There he is," said one of Seagrue's men, pointing to Spike. " The crowd worked in stid the Sher

By this time the Sheriff and his deputies had succeeded in getting spike to the calaboose, where they pushed him limide. But the crowd. now a mob. had followed hard on their heels. It was growing larger every moment and the feeling was running higher.

Seague had sent Lug out to look for Bill, whose disappearance disturbed him. And Lug, finding his partner lying deserted on the side-walk, tried hard to bring him around. He stopped a man running past and with his help propped Bill up. He stopped a man running past and firmative yell and he ordered them with his help propped Bill up.

Here is new health and new life for the ailing

I F you who are weak, anaemic, nervous, or run-down could realize what a short course of Wincarnis would mean to youyou would not continue to suffer needlessly. You would get a bottle of Wincarnis at once and, from today, begin to derive the new health and new life that Wincarnis promotes. Remember that your health is your most valuable possession. Ill-health, apart from the misery it causes, deprives you of your rightful enjoyment and handicaps you in your daily duties. But good health-glorious, glowing health-can be yours if you take Wincarnis. Because it possesses a four-fold power in creating the health you need.

It is in cases like this that Wincarnis exercises such a wonderful effect. Winarnis promotes new strength, blood, new nerve torce, and new vitality. Because Wincarnis is a tonic, a restorative, a blood builder and a nerve food, that is why over 10,000 doctors recommend Wincarnis.

Mothers! Don't let your daily burden ruin your health. Don't let your cares and anxieties spoil your looks. Don't suffer needlessly. Wincarnis can give you the new health you need.

The ingredients of Wincarnis have been recommended by the medical pro-fession for hundreds of years. Its formula is not concealed. Wincarnis is an unvarying combination of beef from prize cattle of English breed, malt from choice ripe grains, and a specially selected wine possessing unusual tonic properties. The wine is a mild stimiant, a tonic and a blood-builder. The mait is a powerful restorative and vital-The beet is a highly concentrated tique builder. These three ingredients are combined by a scientific process which greatly enhances their individual health-giving qualities. There are no drugs in Wincarnis. You will find it plessant to take, to digest, and as delicious as the finest beverage. Wincarnis has been famous in Europe for a third of a century. Thousands have testined that it has restored them to health and strength. Don't confuse it with the many interior preparations of apparently similar nature. Accept no substitutes. Buy Wincarnia itself, the tonic that has been unsuccessfully imitated for 36
